A TERRIFIC LANDSLIDE.

Narrow Escape of a Train in the Grand Canyon of the Arkansas. [From the San Francisco Examiner, Dec. 1.1

From a private letter dated Denver, Nov. 25 and received in this city yesterday from one of the passengers on the train which left Salt Lake City on Weilnesday last over the Denver and Rio Grande road, information was received of a ter-rific landslide which occurred in the Grand Canyon rife landslide which occurred in the Grand Canyon of the Arkansas on Thursday afternoon. The train was proceeding at its usual rate of speed when the passengers were startled by a thundernoos roar, which re-echoed through the narrow canyon like salvis of artillery, and the stooping of the train. All was excitement and confusion in a moment, and a panic almost eccurred among the territed passengers, who hastened to discinbark. The cause of the disturbance was soon made manifest, for a mighty pile of lowders was seen lying upon the track a short distance alread of the train, and every one recognized the fact that a landslide had occurred and thanked fortune that it had happened just when it old, as in less than three minutes the train would have passed that spot, and all on board would have been dashed to pieces.

a story from his own pen to the columns of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER. Read the following letter:

Bridgeport, Nov. 18th, 1887.
MY YOUNG FRIENDS,—I am now approaching the age of four-score years, and in the order of nature cannot remain among you much longer. There are many lemons I have learned during my long life

All of you like stories, so I will tell you a story in which I can most forcibly teach these lessons and in-culcule the virtues which every American boy can and should reserve.

culcate the virtues which every American boy can and should possess.

You will find "MY PLUCKY BOY TOM" a lad whom you will like, and you may be sure that the story of his adventures in India in search of curiosities which I have written for THE FAMILY STORY PAPER will interest and thrill you, and make you feel, when you are through, that you would be glad to read a good deal more about him.

We take great pleasure in announcing to our readers, and especially the young folks, that naimal curtosities destroyed. On the day following Pr. T. Barnum, the great showman and cverybody's friend, has consented to contribute Murray Hill Hotel, Nov. 21st, 1887.

Editor New York Family Story Paper:
Please publish at once all the chapters of my story up to the point where Tom goes to India in search of curiosities for my show. I have ust sent him the following cable:

Tom Bradford — Lucknow, India — Every single animal, except twenty-one elephants, a rhinocers, and a few other animals, destroyed by fire last night in Irridgeport. Employ a full band of experienced hunders, and ship the varest and wildest beasts to be found in India as soon as captured.

TOM'S ANSWER TO MR. BARNUM.

Mr. P. T. Barnum, Murray Hill Hotel, N. Y.
Cable received. Very worry to hear of your great loss, India will be scoured, and the wildest and fercest animals ever seen in America will be exhibited in the Greatest Show on Earth, if our lives are not considered in their contures. in the Greatest Snow sacrifical institute capture. TOM BRADFORD.

A supplement containing thirteen chapters of Mr. Barnum's great story is presented to all readers of Time New York Family Stork Papers, Out to-day. Time Family Stork Papers is for sale by all newsdealers, or will be
